

“You are worthy, our Lord and God, to receive glory, honor and power, because you created all things . . .”

Revelation 4:11

Imagine Jesus standing at the threshold of infinity. Absolute void and nothingness surrounds Him. There in the chaos of oblivion, He speaks. “Let there be light.” Instantly, as though someone flipped a switch, light streamed about Him, revealing the canvass of empty space from which He would create His greatest masterpiece. The Bible begins, “In the beginning God created the heavens and the earth.” It’s one short sentence which goes to the furthest distance in proclaiming the power of the Almighty. After creation was complete, He didn’t want His creation to ever forget what He had done. So He made a memorial to Creation that would stand for all time.

1. Why does Paul tell us that the Bereans more noble than those in Thessalonica? Acts 17:11

Did the Bereans find out truth by talking to lots and lots of people? By asking friends and neighbors? By going on what their pastor, rabbi, or priest told them? No, they did it how? By searching the Scriptures! They were longing to have their minds enlightened by the Word of God. It wasn’t with the attitude that some have of predetermining what they want to believe and then trying to find one text as an escape route out of doing God’s will by taking that one text by itself, ignoring all the others and using that text to walk away from a clearly taught truth.
